Child Abuse and Neglect:
Henrico CASA is the only court advocacy program for abused and neglected children in Henrico County and this service is offered at no charge to the children or their families. CASA volunteers commit to working with children for the entire duration of their court case with the goal of securing safe, stable placements, and the prevention of further abuse or neglect.

CASA volunteers complete 40 hours of in-person training and once assigned a case, conduct an independent evaluation of each child's circumstances, focusing on the safety and well-being of the child.

Specific achievements include: 116 active volunteers with an average length of service of 4.5 years; volunteers dedicated 10,882 hours and made 26,673 contacts with family members and case professionals; value of $309,702 if volunteers were compensated for their service to Henrico County.

Reporting:
The final work product of each volunteer advocate's efforts is a detailed report to the Court, complete with a case history, documented factual findings, and recommendations for placement and family stabilization services.
